Chicago might as well have been held in Richmond. It was a miscrable, fawning, sycophantic and degrading surrender to the men who are in arms against the Government and who have done their ulmost to destroy American liberty. The talk about free speech, a free press, and the Constitution, are very pretty and capital catchwords to descree honest voters. But how is it in the dominions of Jeffelson Davis? How about a free press and free speech there? If a man in Virguia should dure to open one word against Davis or his plans he would be hung to the first tree or most convenient hamp-jest for his temerity. Yet these leaders are the men that the Chicago Convention propose to restore to power in order to wreak their congressional vote to minetteen companies of the Vernoon Brigade. The aggregate is as follows:
